

Consumer Observatory Reports Disclaimer

This disclaimer (hereinafter the “Disclaimer”) applies to all individuals, organizations, entities, and third parties (hereinafter the “Receivers”) who access, use, or distribute the reports, data, or findings published by the Consumer Observatory under EIT Food ivzw (hereinafter “EIT Food”)

WHEREAS

- A. EIT Food conducts research and publishes reports under the Consumer Observatory to provide insights into consumer trends and behaviors (hereinafter the “Reports”);
- B. EIT Food seeks to ensure that all information provided in these Reports is accurate, responsibly used, and protected from unauthorized exploitation;
- C. The present Disclaimer sets forth the conditions, limitations, and responsibilities associated with accessing and utilizing these reports;

NOW, THEREFORE, the following terms and conditions shall apply:

Article 1 – Accuracy and Reliability of Information

1.1 EIT Food has made every reasonable effort to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the information presented in the Reports.

1.2 The data and findings are provided on an 'as-is' basis, and EIT Food makes no warranties, express or implied, regarding their completeness, accuracy, or suitability for any specific purpose.

1.3 Any reliance on the information contained in the Reports is at the Receivers’ own risk.

Article 2 – No Endorsement or Official View

2.1 The views, opinions, and interpretations expressed in the Reports are those of the authors and research participants.

2.2 Such views do not necessarily reflect the opinions or official position of EIT Food, its partners, affiliates, or funding entities.

2.3 Nothing in the Reports shall be construed as an endorsement or recommendation by EIT Food.

Article 3 – Limitation of Liability

3.1 EIT Food shall not be held responsible for any consequences, damages, or losses—direct or indirect—arising from the use of the information contained in the Reports. This includes, but is not limited to, any impact on businesses, organizations, or individuals that may be mentioned or indirectly linked to the findings.

Article 4 – Responsible Use of Data

4.1 Receivers and third parties using the data from the Reports must do so in a responsible manner. Any misuse, misrepresentation, or misinterpretation of the findings is strictly prohibited.

4.3 EIT Food is not liable for any incorrect conclusions or applications drawn from the Reports.

Article 5 – Intellectual Property and Restrictions on Use

5.1 All content, including but not limited to data, text, graphics, and analyses, is the intellectual property of EIT Food. The information may be used solely for educational, research, and non-commercial purposes, provided proper attribution is given to EIT Food. Commercial use, reproduction, distribution, or monetization of this content without prior written permission from EIT Food is strictly prohibited.

Article 6 – Right to Modify and Withdraw

6.1 EIT Food reserves the right to modify, update, or withdraw the Reports at any time without prior notice.

6.2 EIT Food assumes no obligation to update the contents of this report in response to new information, legal developments, or other circumstances.

Article 7 – Governing Law and Jurisdiction

7.1 This disclaimer and any disputes arising from the use of this report shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Belgium.

7.2 Any disputes shall be resolved in the courts of Brussels.
