The Most Important Thing You'll Do This Year

Trump is expelling and harming immigrant communities – and using these anti-immigrant tactics to make it harder for eligible voters to cast their ballot.

If you are worried, mad, or concerned: You are not alone. Trump's playbook is designed to confuse, discourage, and scare. Ours is designed to activate, educate, and reassure.

That's why we need you to join Citizens In Action—a nationwide effort to support our communities to vote this November. Read on for why this may be the most important thing you do this year.

What's Happening in Our Communities?

Even though the courts and public opinion have rejected Trump's actions, he's continued to advance a harmful agenda:

Stripping hundreds of thousands of longtime U.S. residents of their visas, protected status and green cards

Using lies and misinformation to cast doubt on eligible voters from immigrant communities—a fearmongering tactic by some immigration and election officials.

Repeatedly attacking constitutional rights like birthright citizenship, even though Trump soundly lost in the Supreme Court.

Threatening federal interference in elections and at the polls.

Ahead of a critical election, the Trump administration is using anti-immigrant tactics to make it harder for eligible voters to cast their ballot.

What to Look Out For?

Extra ID or documentation barriers to registering or voting

The administration has pushed for extra steps for people to get and stay registered—to require eligible voters to provide added proof of identity or citizenship, most harming naturalized citizens. This is voter elimination, not voter verification.

Mail Voting Restrictions

Trump wants to restrict delivery of mail ballots, including for eligible voters who may inaccurately be excluded from flawed citizenship lists.

Federal interference at the polls

Sending ICE to polling places is illegal. Threats by law enforcement, immigration agents, and elected officials are designed to intimidate voters and control election results.

The November 3, 2026 midterm elections are the most consequential in a generation.

Our communities have the power to decide what comes next. Here's how to use it:

Join Citizens In Action

Our country is strongest when all of us show up, participate and have an equal say in the decisions that impact our lives. Voting is how we contribute to the changes we want to see in our communities. We can protect our votes by knowing our rights.

Led by Asian Law Caucus and Voto Latino, Citizens In Action is a Know Your Rights empowerment and election mobilization campaign leading up to November 3. Learn how to volunteer as a poll monitor, talk to loved ones about their right to vote, and sign up for election protection trainings.
