

Circle of Security Parenting Group for Caregivers in Recovery

The Center for Early Relationship Support[®]

Does your child sometimes behave in ways that make you feel angry, sad, ashamed, or confused?

Circle of Security is a free parenting support group that can help you better understand what your child needs in these moments and how to best respond.

This group will include a focus on the particular challenges of parenting in recovery.

About the Group

- The group meets once a week on Wednesdays for eight weeks.
- The group will consist of caregivers in recovery.
